

7th World Congress Against the Death Penalty

Video in Lush presentation

My name is Nathan Fields, I was charged with a double murder and I was sentenced to death.

We want a society that has a focus on healing.

People don't give a lot of thought about this issue. But you need to know about this issue. You need to know that it doesn't improve public safety.

There are things we can do to hold people accountable and there are things we can do to prevent the violence from happening in the first place.

My judge had taken a bribe from my co defendant to throw his case. a bribe I knew nothing about

The possibility that an innocent person could be executed.

We kill somebody in this state and we kill him in the name of the state, that means me, I.

It's a penalty that you can't correct.

The death penalty actually separates people and creates second class victims and traumatise and re traumatize these people.

History can't wait for us to do something tomorrow when we can do it today.
